Describe your expectations of the workshop

- Learning about the updated food security situation, key changes, and strategies
- Hearing the key inputs of FSC donors and partners
- Updates re. needs and conflict analysis.
- Discussions on the strategic focus of the FSC

- I expected to learn more about FSC and opportunities from cross-cluster collaboration and coordination.
- Information sharing and brainstorm on FSC/nexus priorities
- learning from other organizations' practices and findings
- To better understand the FS in Myanmar
- To get up-to-date information of the Food Security sector and future strategy for the current crisis
- To discuss clear strategy for the next years & stronger coordinations
- Opportunity to exchange views, information, experience and create foundation for future conversations around strategic priorities, common approaches, standards
- I expected to have the chance to interact with other relevant actors of the FSC and gather an overall picture of the latest trends and initiatives in Food Security.
- To be aware of the situation of food security and agriculture in Myanmar.
- My expectations were met at this workshop as sharing a lot of sharing of information through presentations on Food security and livelihoods.

What could be improved upon?

- Would be helpful to have high level updates from all Cluster partners and more discussion on what is going well and where the challenges are for partners (e.g. similar to what one organisation mentioned about challenges of getting physical cash in to the country for their activities). Perhaps some of the older assessment findings (e.g. earlier results from Helen Keller) could rather be shared in the monthly Cluster meetings.
- I understand hybrid meeting facilitation is quite challenging however, it would be good if we can improve that part. Thanks.
- More time allotted to brainstorm/discussion on priorities and nexus
- to include private sector participation to the workshop
- References or materials to be provided prior to workshop so it can be reviewed in advance.
- Too much presentation time and less discussion time.
- Less presentations & more discussion or group work. Less Organizational presentation about their programme, unless it clearly feeds into the strategy discussions
- The overall plan for the workshop - fewer presentations, more space for discussion. Also presentations should answer a clear question or be specific in the problems they lay out. (Some of the discussions in this workshop unfortunately did neither)
- More involvement of donors.
- It would be great if all participants could be able to join in person so that the discussion could be conducted specifically and sharing knowledge regarding with food security and agriculture among the participants. Thanks
- Keeping to time and some presentation which were graphical should be simplified and shared on how they can be application to our everyday programming
